

ONAIR TO LAUNCH MOBILE EVENT PORTAL AT EBACE 2010 IN GENEVA

First EBACE portal will keep attendees up-to-date throughout their time at the event

Geneva, Switzerland, 27 April 2010. OnAir, the world's leading inflight and on-board connectivity provider, today announced the launch of a mobile portal supporting the 10th annual EBACE event held at Geneva's Palexpo (Halls 6 & 7) from May 4th to 6th 2010 – the first time a portal has been used for the event.

Accessing the portal directly on their smart phone, EBACE attendees can stay up-to-date and fully informed about all EBACE information and news – including viewing daily schedules, being kept aware of any changes to the programme, finding an exhibitor or simply navigating around the exhibition itself.

Attendees will simply visit: <http://mobile.ebace.aero/>

Benoit Debains, OnAir CEO, expressed delight about co-operation with NBAA and with the portal in general: "Staying up-to-date on information via the portal will ensure delegates make best use of their time during the air show. It gives them extra flexibility and more of an opportunity to plan – the same benefits as airline or cruise-ship passengers get when they use the OnAir service as they travel."

OnAir is located on Stand number 783 in Palexpo's Hall 6, where the company is showcasing its offerings for the VIP, Corporate and Governmental Jets sector.
